

Dear Students

It has come to our attention that a growing number of stray dogs have been frequenting our college campus. While we understand that some of you have been feeding these dogs out of compassion, this practice has led to an increase in their numbers, which poses significant safety risks. It is my responsibility to ensure the safety and well-being of all students, faculty, and staff on our campus.

Feeding stray dogs can encourage them to congregate in certain areas, leading to potential issues such as:

- Aggressive Behavior: Dogs, especially in groups, may become territorial and aggressive, posing a risk of bites or attacks.
- Health Concerns: Stray dogs may carry diseases or parasites that could be transmitted to humans or other animals on campus.
- Disruption: The presence of stray dogs can disrupt the learning environment and daily activities.

For these reasons, we kindly request that you refrain from feeding any stray dogs on campus. College is taking steps to address this issue humanely by working with local animal control and rescue organizations to manage and relocate these animals safely.

We appreciate your understanding and cooperation in this matter. By not feeding the stray dogs, you are contributing to a safer and more comfortable campus environment for everyone.

Thank you for your attention to this important issue.
